

When you have a career in health care,
you are a valued member of your community.
People appreciate your professionalism, your knowledge, and your ability to help them,
often in a time of need.

Trained health professionals have skills that are in high demand throughout this country and around the world.

With a career in health care,
you are certain to make a difference.
Health care & health science are used to solve problems affecting people every day.

You can earn a livable wage in health care,
and with additional training,
your salary can always grow.

Within the health care field, there are hundreds of careers to choose from: working with people, animals, and technology, in clinics, laboratories, and research settings. Many of the fastest growing jobs over the next 20 years will be in health care.

Health careers have unlimited opportunities for personal and professional growth.
In fact, many employers help pay for additional training.

Positions in health care employ advanced tools and cutting edge knowledge to improve patient care.